SAMPLES BANDAGES TO BE SHOWN AT T. A. R. ENTERTAINMENT TONIGHT

Tonight is the night of the T. A. R. dance in the lobby of the Mizpah hotel. Every one is invited as the guests of the organization. Samples of the surgical dressings used in the base hospitals in France will be on exhibition and all those wishing to help make them for our wounded boys will be given a chance to register for that service to the nation. An informal musical program will be given by a number of Tonopah's talented musicians, who have offered their services to help make the affair an unusually pleasant one. Dancing will begin at 8:20.

GRAND JURY RENDERS ITS REPORT

ment and all data of which is contained in the final report of the certified accountants to the grand jury, and consists of shortages in county and state funds by public officials.

Careless Handling.

The matter of shortages in officials' accounts has been given careful attention by this jury and, where it has been possible, the parties involved have been called before us to explain. In the following cases your jury has come to the conclusion, by resolution passed, that there was no crime committed and no fraud intended, and, so far as is in the power of this jury to do so, has exonerated them by saying such shortages were the result of careless handling of public funds, poor system of bookkeeping, as well as careless bookkeeping by such officials, regardless of system. These shortages are shown on page 112, final report of certified accountants, which is hereto attached and made a part of this report and marked "Exhibit A".

Owens' Shortage.
As to the other shortages shown, this grand jury believes every effort should be made to collect them. In the case of the shortage of J. J. Owens, ex-sheriff, we are informed an offer was made by the bonding company to make a $1,500 settlement. This matter should be taken up by the district attorney and the best adjustment possible made. But make it! It has dragged long enough!

Malley's Fees.

In the case of the fees retained by ex-Sheriff Ed Malley, amounting to $1,248.66, the district attorney advises that this is a civil case connected with bullion tax, as also is the case of J. A. Sanders for delinquent penalties of $4,165.24. This should be handled in accordance with resolution in re bullion tax, unanimously adopted by the jury, copy of which is incorporated in this report on page 4.

Bullion Tax.

The bullion tax matter is of grave importance, inasmuch as it seems to involve both state and county officials. Some officials have even gone so far as to delegate legislative powers to themselves to change the statutes to suit their convenience in this case, and this is claimed by our district attorney, advisedly so. In his written advice to the county commissioners, when he states, in substance, that if the said officials had obeyed the law their offices would have been abolished. Just how he knows these officials would have been abolished, he does not state. It is the opinion, however, of the grand jury that there is no such power conferred by statute, or otherwise, to any officials, and such practice by officials cannot be condoned too rigidly, no matter how high or low the official position.

Grimes Matter.

In the matter of the shortage of Pudgy Grimes, ex-auditor and recorder, deceased, we would advise, if this is uncollectable, that advice to this effect from the district attorney be made of record and the account wiped out in that way.

In regard to the county commissioners' illegal allowance to Tripo Susich of his taxes, amounting to $15.40, we think the commissioners exceeded their authority in making an indigent allowance of taxes. We have been unable to come to a conclusion where a man can own property and still be an indigent. This money should be returned by the officials who allowed it. The same condition exists in the Tonopah.

filling fee; this should be made good by the officials who refunded it. If Tonopah had made good, the parties paying the fee would not have paid any additional amount to the treasury. Why should money be taken out of the treasury and returned to reimburse their loss?

Bullion Tax Resolution.
In dealing with the bullion tax situation the following resolution was adopted by the grand jury:

"Whereas, the grand jury did, at a considerable expense, employ licensed public expert accountants to examine and fully investigate the books and accounts of all public officials to the end that each and every citizen of Nye county might be advised as to the exact condition of the affairs of the county financially and otherwise; and,

"Whereas, upon completion of said examination and investigation by the herein mentioned expert accountants, it appears from their very thorough and exact report that large sums of money are still due Nye county from certain mining companies in the matter of bullion tax; and,

"Whereas, the grand jury has not, as yet, been apprised that any definite action has been taken by the proper officials looking toward a settlement of monies due as per report; therefore, be it

"Resolved, that it is the opinion of the grand jury that if there are any monies due Nye county, the same should be collected without fear or favor and every legal right of the people be maintained; and, be it further

"Resolved, that we recommend to the honorable court the appointment of special counsel to investigate and do all other honorable and lawful things to bring about a just and proper settlement of the mentioned shortages."

The documentary evidence attached to and made a part of this report will explain to your honor the efforts your foreman and the members of the grand jury have put forth in their endeavor to get action in the collection of the bullion tax.

Gambling Cases.
In the gambling cases, this jury brought one indictment. So far, we understand, this case has been sidetracked without trial. Just how, we are unable to explain. This should be explained by the district attorney. A transcript of the testimony taken in this case was made and given to the county commissioners with a request that the license be revoked. The transcript was to be used by them for reference in questioning witnesses called before them, and returned to the grand jury. The license was not revoked, but the transcript was handed to the clerk and made a matter of public record. This transcript was with drawn from the records by your foreman as it was, and is, a part of the grand jury record, the commissioners having no right to make it of public record. Said transcript is hereto attached and made a part of the report, and will show your honor the evidence on which the indictment was returned. This indictment was brought in compliance with the published resolution made by this grand jury that if gambling was openly conducted in the town of Tonopah, or even in the county of Nye, the grand jury would not only indict the parties conducting the games, but would indict the officers allowing such games to operate.

No Help From Officers.
During the terms of the officers holding office when we were called by your honor, we received no assistance in any form, either from peace or executive officers, but were handicapped by them continually, as advice to us from our former district attorney will show. A transcript of same is hereto attached and made a part of the report, marked "Exhibit B."

PERSONAL

JACK MCARTHY of Manhattan is spending a few days in town.

ED M. FURST, proprietor of the Merchants' hotel in Manhattan, is here on jury duty.

CHARLES EPSTINE, the broker, after a month's stay in San Francisco, was an arrival today.

MRS. GRANT MURPHY was a passenger this morning for Kendall, Mont., where she expects to remain for the winter.

ROBERT STEWART, who has been visiting in Tonopah for the past week, returned to Sodaville today.

W. B. HINCHMAN, assistant traffic manager of the Tonopah & Tidewater Railroad company, arrived from Los Angeles on train 23 today.

WILL DYER, who was operated on for appendicitis at the Miners' hospital, is reported to be improving.

HINCHMAN'S STATEMENT.

At the suggestion of Mr. Crumley of the citizens' committee of Tonopah, Mr. Grier, our general agent, wired on November 6, asking if we could assist in securing some coal for Tonopah, as the local situation was critical. We immediately telegraphed the principal mines in Colorado and New Mexico and ascertained that they could not fill their local orders, much less accept orders for Southern Nevada.

We had just received a car for our use at Ludlow and when receiving advice last Friday of another car en route to Ludlow, thought to help out the Tonopah situation by ordering it diverted to Tonopah. We understood Mr. Crumley was acting for the citizens' committee and knew of no better way to handle than to order it delivered to the Wittenberg Warehouse company, understanding that all dealers were apportioning deliveries as directed by the fuel administrators.

W. B. HINCHMAN.

fore the jury some twenty-five or thirty witnesses, whom they picked up in a raid on the Tonopah Club, run by Nick Ableman, who was previously indicted by this jury for offense of a like nature. After taking the testimony of all these witnesses and officers, a transcript of which is hereto attached and made a part of this report, marked "Exhibit C," this jury failed to bring an indictment in this case. (Mr. Jack Grant and Mr. Thomas are to be commended for their efforts to enforce the law.) The actual reason for this action of the grand jury no one can tell, but it was openly and publicly charged we were not getting the support of the peace and executive officers who had just retired from office; therefore the handling of the Ableman case by the new district attorney did not inspire confidence in his handling the gambling cases. It is discouraging in the extreme to officials who are trying to do their duty to be blocked and handicapped in every way by the officials whose duty it is to carry out their orders. But, be that as it may, it is no credit to this jury to neglect or pass its duty on account of lack of co-operation by other officials. The results of the above cases and the way they have been handled are that gambling is as wide open in Tonopah today as it has ever been and the statement is fully made by grand jurors that the action they did take only had the result of closing the smaller places and creating a monopoly for the Tonopah Club. This is a deplorable condition of affairs, but, nevertheless, is a fact and can be charged to only one thing—lack of co-operation by the officials.

Rabid Coyotes.
In the matter of the rabies situation taken up by this grand jury, lack of co-operation again shows up in a most glaring form. A rabid coyote was killed in the city limits of Tonopah. Its head was sent to Quarantine Officer Mack at Reno, who pronounced it rabid in the most virulent form. The matter was immediately taken up with the state officials, with the result that in three hours the town of Tonopah was quarantined and the state officials were complimented on their quick work in the matter. A state policeman was appointed and all dogs were ordered

AMUSEMENTS

BESSIE BARRISCALE AT THE BUTLER.

Bessie Barriscale, of the expressive brown eyes and delightful personality, will make her appearance tonight at the Butler in a romantic comedy-drama by J. G. Hawkes, entitled "Borrowed Plumage," which is a romance of the Georgian period, wherein one sees the movement of gallant men and fair women.

Throughout the plot, which is understood to be consistently realistic, despite the patches and brocades of the Georgian period, there runs a vein of comedy as sensitive and delicate as that in Louis N. Parker's "Pomander Walk." Miss Barriscale, as Nora, or Madcap Nonie, as she is more generally known, is first seen as a kitchen slave in Selkirk Hall, an imposing castle on the Isle of St. Mary, off the Scottish coast, and later as a great lady imposing in silks and satins, but without fascinating and mischievous. The New York critics all gave the production enthusiastic praise in their reviews.

In addition to the feature "Sole Mates," a Triangle comedy, will be added to the program. Tomorrow, Valesca Suratt, in "A Rich Man's Plaything," which had to be substituted for the regular picture advertised in the program, on account of a fire in the Fox film exchange in San Francisco. Also "The Fighting Trail," which is getting more and more exciting with every number. Do not miss one! It is the greatest outdoor picture ever taken.

No one has succeeded yet in capturing the girl with the Fatal Ring, although she is right among you every day—looking you in the face, talking to you, and still she has not been intercepted. There are two more days to locate this elusive lady and claim the beautiful ring which is to be given to the lucky person as a reward.

Inclosed, any dogs at large were ordered shot. This was all right for a short time, but there were those who refused to obey the law and as there is a penalty in such cases the state policeman was ordered to arrest offenders and take them before the proper authorities for trial.

The district attorney, Mr. Atkinson, informed your foreman he would draw the necessary papers for such offenders if he was compelled to; otherwise he would not. The justice of the peace, whose duty it is to hear all cases, informed your foreman he could tell the officers in charge not to bring such cases in his court, giving as his reason that W. B. Evans had killed himself politically by enforcing some dog ordinance and that he did not propose to kill himself likewise. Just what really became of this matter we are unable to say, but the grand jury instructed your foreman to send a telegram asking the governor to lift the quarantine on account of lack of co-operation of the local officials mentioned. To this message we have not as yet received a reply.

Sanitary Question.

The sanitary question was taken up by this jury and your foreman appointed every member of the jury a member of the sanitary committee except himself, eliminating himself not only from the committee, but from all deliberations concerning sanitation, for the reason that any action taken by him personally might be construed by the public to be taken for personal reasons and for personal benefit on account of his connection with the Tonopah Sewer and Drainage company. Consequently, I will refrain from any comment on the report of the sanitary committee, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part of this report, and marked "Exhibit D."

This completes the report of the grand jury, made this 15th day of November, 1917, except to say that the difficult situation of Tonopah is best expressed by ex-District Attorney Sanders and Judge Dunsmuir. District Attorney Sanders says it is a matter of "passing the buck" and the other that it is a case of measuring the morals of a community in votes.

RECLAMATION RESULTS.

(By Associated Press.)

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 15.—As an illustration of the value of the United States reclamation work, the district office here has issued a table of figures showing that the crop yield from land irrigated under the Elephant Butte dam during the past year was worth as much as the cost of the project, as paid by the landowners under the dam. The reclamation service also urged more men on the land in order to double this yield next year.
